

Admissions Policy

Alexandria Country Day School is coeducational and accepts qualified mission appropriate students regardless of race, or national and ethnic origin. The school accepts those qualified students, who, in the opinion of the school, will have successful experiences in the program and will enrich the classes for which they are applicants. The school reserves the right to place students in the appropriate grade level.

The following priorities exist when spaces are available:

- Priority 1- qualified siblings of students continuing at Alexandria Country Day School
- Priority 2- qualifying children of alumni
- Priority 3- other qualified candidates
